CHURCH MUSINGS

by Lisa Hawkins

I hate New Year resolutions. They make me feel inadequate before the year even takes shape, and I can do that all by myself, thank you very much. As my mind drifts towards that ugly word, "inadequate," I am reminded with the words of St. Paul and the words of King David that my adequacy does not come from myself but from Jesus Christ, who knows all the bits and pieces of me from before I was even formed. He knows what I need before I ask and uses other people to help do His work here in the Kingdom of God on Earth. But sometimes I forget who I am because of who God is and so He sometimes uses other people to remind me.

2018 has been a struggling kind of year for me. I don't always like the mission God has given to me and I feel a little beat up at times but I have a couple of secrets. One is my friend Gloria Holland, who I think is a prophet. There have been a couple of times this year that she has taken both of my hands in hers. I know now that when Gloria takes my hands in hers I need to pay attention, so I put down my handbag, hold both of her hands, and look into her eyes, and then WHAM! The Lord speaks through her. The words from her mouth feel like a word from the Lord and they become exactly the kind of encouragement that I need. She speaks power through the work of the Holy Spirit in her. She tells me I am a warrior for the Lord and that He is using me to carry out His work. She blesses me with her generous spirit and her grateful heart and I am a better person for knowing her.

My other secret is my friend Don Christian, AKA Gabby Geezer, who sends me year after year without fail the most delightful birthday cards. These are not ordinary cards but handmade with personal greetings and delightful pictures. My birthday this year was not a memorable one until I received my card from Don. In it he reminded me of what I contribute to the life of the church and to the world in general, and, again, as my insecurity was just about to take a firm grip on me, Don's ministry through the gift of a birthday card in that very moment made my whole year.

And so I am grateful for my little secrets at Saint Andrews. I have more than just these two. I am privileged to know so many people at our sweet church who are living out their faith using the gifts God has given to them. Sometimes we don't even know how powerful these gifts can be in the lives of one another. Don says he makes cards so the staff at his apartments for other gabby or not so gabby geezers will be nice to him. I say he is listening to the spirit to live out what he was made to do — encouraging one another at all times. And I am grateful.
